PUBLIC MEETING!

The political and personal friends of our distinguished fellow-citizen, HON. JAMES GUTHRIE, are invited to meet at DEMOCRATIC HALL, On Fifth street, between Market and Jefferson, on MONDAY EVENING.

At early gas-lighting. A full attendance is requested.

We see along a yarn in the organ about frauds in Philadelphia, which is copied from a Free Soil paper of that city. It is the old story again of fraud, fraud! The organ is very eager to show that the Abolition party of Pennsylvania was beaten by fraudulent voting; and what is worse, they were beaten by foreigners. The vague statements of the Free Soil Abolition paper are just of the sort that commonly appear in such quarters. They, and the organ here, had better attend to the definite charges of fraud at Washington, and the appalling casualties perpetrated on the right of suffrage here, and in Baltimore, and New Orleans. The people of this city have had some bloody experience on this subject, and it is nothing short of St. Francis impudence to scribble about frauds here. Some parties see in the world a great mirror, in which their own ugly features are the prominent objects. They see reflected a vast complicated machinery of their own make, and they raise the squal of fraud, fraud! They have no hope of beating the Democratic party by an open, straightforward, manly course. They must resort to secrecy, and oaths, and signs, and grips. They must raise a vast sum of money by taxing the faithful. They must watch them and swear them, and swear them and watch them, and have a treasury replenished by a vast scheme of taxation. It is not rich to hear such a party talk about frauds! We shall have Brigham Young and his wives preaching chastity presently, and rolling up their eyes at heinousness. It used to be a vice for parties to concoct their schemes secretly, and to secure votes by the force of party despotism. Such things were sometimes done; but the suspected fact found to conceal and deny their complicity in such deeds, and all parties disowned them, and denounced them. So, individuals have been guilty of vile licentiousness, but they always tried to conceal or deny it. They were compelled to pay that much respect to virtue. Know-Nothingism, however, has sanctified the mean vice of party despotism, by adopting it as a basis of their organization. Oaths to secrecy and concealment are made a party law—a party merit. They actually enacted a vice into a party law, and seemed proud of it. So Brigham Young has elevated a social abomination into a religious duty, and gloried over the shame. And the said Brigham Young can rail at the licentiousness of the Gentiles, and boast of his piety and sanctity. Secrecy in politics is the parent of fraud; it is not resorted to but for a fraudulent purpose; and it never existed without its attendant frauds. The outcry of fraud from such an organization will provoke derision in pandemonium; and it requires a good deal of brass to utter it. Let the organ explain what has become of the vote of the First Ward of Louisville; what has become of the three thousand registered votes of New Orleans, and when the truth is told, as this city knows it, and the people of other cities know it, we shall be ready to hear of frauds elsewhere.

It is published this morning a communication from Washington, respecting the affairs of the fourth district in this State. We do not intend to obtrude any advice on such a subject, but the Democracy of the district can always be heard in our columns, on a subject that concerns themselves. The present member of Congress from that district assumed the post of danger in 1855, and gallantly sustained it. He has never faltered in his duty to his constituents, and it would seem but justice to endorse him by a re-election. He is, besides, an Old-Line Whig, and deserves credit for resisting the Know-Nothing crusade against the Democratic party, in the light of all these facts, that the genuine Democracy of our district, and their anti-Know-Nothing allies, will evince their appreciation of his worth, and a proper regard for their own interests, by re-electing him to the elevated position he now occupies.

CUTTING TIMBER.—We clip from the Ohio Cultivator the following extract on the "Best time for Cutting Timber." Too much care in the selection of timber, and the proper time for cutting, cannot be taken by all persons who manufacture agricultural implements and pleasure vehicles. How provoking it is, the farming community well know, to receive a new plow, all painted, and finished in the most approved style, and just in the height of the busy season of the spring to see his plow starting off so beautifully and easily, giving promise of pleasant work to the driver, and easy work to the team, and before a half day's work is done, it meets with some obstruction, and away goes the team! We are confident that accidents of this kind, or, we should say, negligence of this kind, in the manufacturer, is the sole cause why many farmers continue for so many years to use implements of an inferior quality, which they can procure near at home, when they know much better can be had from a distance; as it is the case with the plow, as well as other implements, that repairs done by a mechanic accustomed to the plan or construction, nearly always leaves it inefficient and far inferior to what it was originally. If the care we commend in the selection and preservation of timber was more general, the carriage and buggy manufacturers might dispense with the use of so much putty, and the owners of such articles would be able to dispense with paying so many bills for repairs.

The very best time for cutting timber for all purposes is in the months of July and August, and if you have not time at this season of the year to cut your timber, it will be full and well, and perhaps better, to let it stand until the next year's use, and in so doing be sure to cut to the red. By following this rule, you will find it advantageous in many ways. Timber thus treated will last longer, will season quicker, be lighter to handle, free from the attacks of worms, and when manufactured into barrels, kegs, etc., will not be subject to the ravages of bugs, a familiar enemy, supposed by some to be a worm, but is a small brown bug, about one-fourth of an inch in length, and makes its attacks in the spring months. Besides, the above advantages, timber treated in this manner will burn much more readily than if cut in winter or early spring.

A young British officer in India was so shockingly mutilated and disfigured in battle, after mature reflection, requested a comrade to write to his betrothed in England and release her from the bridal engagement. Her noble answer was, "I will not be subject to the ravages of bugs, a familiar enemy, supposed by some to be a worm, but is a small brown bug, about one-fourth of an inch in length, and makes its attacks in the spring months. Besides, the above advantages, timber treated in this manner will burn much more readily than if cut in winter or early spring."

ASTONISHING NEWS FROM INDIANAPOLIS.—A letter has been received here from Indianapolis stating that, in the investigation of the accounts of the outgoing Republican State officers of Indiana, astounding defalcations have been discovered; that certificates for issuing patents for some fifteen or twenty thousand acres of swamp lands have been issued in favor of one of those officers, for which no money has been paid into the treasury; that the accounts of the State Treasurer show a deficit of some $60,000 not paid up by him; and the issue of a large amount of bank paper without taking the security required by law. There is no need to say in Indianapolis about these developments. The parties implicated were elected as Know-Nothings, but turned up Republicans in the shuffling of the cards of the late Presidential campaign.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29, 1887. Messrs. Editors: As the time is fast approaching when the Democratic hosts of Kentucky should be marshaled for the political conflict in which they must soon engage, I propose, through the medium of your valuable paper, to say a few words in this connection, to the Democracy of the Fourth Congressional District; and I may be the more readily permitted to do so, being a citizen of the Fourth District, and an humble member of the Democracy.

Recent events have discovered, beyond all doubt, that undisguised Know-Nothingism has become a stench in the nostrils of the freemen of Kentucky. None are more thoroughly convinced of this fact than the Know-Nothings themselves; hence the necessity of changing their policy and adopting some new expedient by which to divert the public mind from the pernicious doctrines which they still hold, but attempt to disguise, and the dangerous objects which they seek to accomplish. The new policy to be pursued by these "intense Americans" in the coming canvass, is perfectly apparent.

It will readily be perceived that their last and only chance to retain the ascendancy in the State, will be to enter the contest under the prestige of the old Whig party. All their late movements indicate this as the course to be adopted; and in order the more effectually to carry out this miserable purpose of deception, they will select their candidates from men claiming to be "Old-Line Whigs," men who have not been so notoriously identified with Know-Nothingism as to render them generally obnoxious, but whose political sympathies are as truly Know-Nothing as the most intemperate and extravagant of that fanatical faction; such as Joshua F. Bell, of Boyle; between whom, no doubt, and the Democratic candidate (whoever he may be), the voters of our district will be called upon to choose a Representative in Congress. Bell is probably the most successful demagogue in the district; a pretended Old-Line Whig, pleasing in his manners, a captivating speaker, a subtle and ingenious sophist, he may not be defeated without the united and energetic effort of the Democratic party, with the assistance of a candidate who is able to expose the fallacy of his reasoning. We see, then, the necessity for a speedy and judicious selection of our candidate. Without disparagement to the claims of any other gentleman who may aspire to this distinction, I would suggest Hon. A. G. Talbot, our present Representative, as one eminently qualified to be entrusted with the Democratic standard in the approaching campaign. The "unfettered" of the Fourth District, will not soon forget their last Congressional contest. Know-Nothingism, with all its fascination of novelty and mysteriousness, had penetrated to every village and hamlet in the District; and the little band of conservatives who could not be deceived by its insidious trickery, stood trembling and dismayed, not knowing for good or ill, where to look for deliverance. It was under such unenviable circumstances as these that Col. Talbot expressed a willingness to enter the lists against the "Black Knights," and accordingly opened the canvass with a sworn majority of more than two thousand against him. His constituents are well aware that the signal ability with which he exposed the errors of Know-Nothingism, and the indefatigable energy with which he canvassed the whole district, won for the Democracy a triumph which they themselves considered utterly hopeless. With these facts before us, aside from the important qualifications he possesses, sheer justice demands that he should be rewarded for eminent services rendered. I have availed myself of an excellent opportunity to observe closely his official course, and it gives me pleasure to bear a humble testimony to the fidelity with which he has discharged the high and important trusts that have devolved upon him. No man could have been more attentive to the interests of his constituents in every department of government. And throughout the first session of his term, during that protracted and stormy struggle, from the first ballot for Speaker to the last vote upon the army appropriation bill, his votes and his influence were given in support of the Constitution of his country and the rights of the South. His able and elaborate speech upon the position of parties, delivered in the House of Representatives last July, demonstrates the soundness of his views, and should strongly recommend him as a safe and trustworthy politician. His earnest devotion to the principles of the national Democratic party is not only manifested by his votes and speeches in Congress, but also by his labors and effective efforts in the late Presidential campaign. His numerous friends confidently hope, in the light of all these facts, that the genuine Democracy of our district, and their anti-Know-Nothing allies, will evince their appreciation of his worth, and a proper regard for their own interests, by re-electing him to the elevated position he now occupies.

Pork Packing in the West.

Since our last issue, returns from several places not previously heard from, came to hand. We have now arranged all the returns received in tabular form, and finding the deficiency somewhat larger than was generally anticipated, we hasten to place the statement before the readers of the Price Current. The returns are nearly complete, and sufficiently so for all practical purposes, as those from the few places yet to be heard from will not essentially change the general result.

We have yet to hear from Urbana and Wilmington, in this State; Canton, Hickman, and Paducah, in Kentucky; Chattanooga, in Tennessee; Cairo, Cairo, De Soto, Graysville, Rock Island, and Pittsfield, in Illinois; Fort Madison and Iowa City, in Iowa; and Milwaukee, in Wisconsin. As soon as the returns from these places are received, we will publish the statement in full, together with the exports by railroads to the East, which are not yet at hand. The exports to the East, so far as they have been received, compare as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Amount. Includes entries for Great Western Railway from Detroit, Central Pennsylvania from Pittsburgh, etc.

The Letter of Judge Leconte.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24, 1887. In a letter from Judge Leconte, dated January 9, to Attorney-General Cushing, he says he has too much self-respect to respond to any intimation unfavorable to either his official or personal conduct, unless requested by the President to do so. The amazing information that he was to be removed, disconcerted him of that full confidence upon which he had relied as the last security against injustice, censure, and condemnation without a hearing, which he would not ask to be redressed. Never having felt temptation to contribute to peace by pandering to the popular spirit before the appointment of Gov. Geary, he should regard his advent in the Territory as a useful course to the land. He accuses Gov. Geary of misrepresenting facts, denies that the people of Kansas are the slightest degree perilled by his official acts, and brands as grossly false the statements that he had refused to release free State men on bail. He avows he will conscientiously discharge his duty, uncontrolled by the President or Gov. Geary.

MELANCHOLY MISSION.—By a private dispatch we learn that Judge Kane, the father of Dr. Kane, the Arctic explorer, left Pittsburgh yesterday morning, accompanied by one of his sons, for the purpose of meeting the remains of the deceased, Doctor Kane, at Louisville. He will take passage down this morning, upon the Telegraph No. 3, for that purpose. We are much pleased to learn that the managers of the railroad from Pittsburgh to this city, and the mail route to Louisville, have extended the courtesies within their province to the bereaved party.

He was a man of high character, and a devoted soldier. His death is a great loss to his family and to the community. He is survived by his wife and several children.
